FOREWORD

The mission of the Office of Information Services (OIS) is "to create and implement a coordinated, cohesive NIST-wide plan of action which supports NIST's mission by identifying, collecting, organizing, and disseminating knowledge from all appropriate sources and types to as broad an audience as possible and desirable."

In fulfilling this mission, the OIS NIST Research Library collects and supports information resources regardless of the form in which they appear or the source from which they emanate. Recognizing that the NIST Research Library cannot collect all knowledge, it seeks to augment its collections by identifying and providing access to a broad variety of bibliographic and full-text databases. Access is provided through subscription to vendor services, such as Knight-Ridder Information, Incorporated,[1] or by the acquisition of databases on CD-ROM. The NIST Research Library supports access through the services of information consultants (research librarians) specially trained to assist the NIST technical staff in formulating and carrying out searches, thereby facilitating effective and efficient use of the databases.

In addition, the OIS has initiated a NIST Virtual Library Program (NVL) providing NIST-wide online access from the staff's desktop computer to a variety of information resources and services, regardless of the form or the source of the information. Through special licensing agreements, the NVL is providing access from the desktop to a selection of these remote or CD-ROM databases, which, in some cases, facilitate or provide online desktop access to the full text of the desired information. For example, Computer Select is a database providing access to the abstracts or full text of articles from a selection of journals covering computer technology, the industry, and consumer news. This is available for use in the NIST Research Library, and is accessible on the desktop by networking the CD-ROM on the NVL. Through an agreement with the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC), the NVL provides access to bibliographic citations to articles, and in some cases to the full text of articles, in over 9,000 journals included through the Article First service. The capability of online ordering of the journal articles is also provided.

This publication lists databases by acronyms and full titles. Citations also include dates covered, brief descriptions, kinds of information each contains, producers, the titles of corresponding hard copy, and vendors. (Databases in the LEXIS/NEXIS service are too numerous to mention individually in this report.) An asterisk (*) in the vendor's column denotes availability of the CD-ROM format of the database in the NIST Research Library. A list of vendors with addresses and telephone numbers precedes the list.

The General Subject Index is arranged alphabetically by subject categories, and the Cross Reference Index lists variant forms of the names of the databases in the left column with cross references to the name of the database used in this publication on the right. A list of Full Text Databases is also included.

Following the main database list, is a separate list of databases available on CD-ROM.

If you are interested in a literature search, call 301/975-3052 or see an Information Specialist in the NIST Research Library. For additions or changes that have occurred since the publication of this report, please contact an Information Consultant.

This publication supersedes and revises NIST SP 895, which is dated December 1995.

I wish to thank Karen Wick for her able assistance and diligence in preparing this publication.

NIST Technical Publications

Periodical

Journal of Research of the National Institute of Standards and Technology—Reports NIST research and development in those disciplines of the physical and engineering sciences in which the Institute is active. These include physics, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, and computer sciences. Papers cover a broad range of subjects, with major emphasis on measurement methodology and the basic technology underlying standardization. Also included from time to time are survey articles on topics closely related to the Institute's technical and scientific programs. Issued six times a year.

Nonperiodicals

Monographs—Major contributions to the technical literature on various subjects related to the Institute's scientific and technical activities.

Handbooks—Recommended codes of engineering and industrial practice (including safety codes) developed in cooperation with interested industries, professional organizations, and regulatory bodies.

Special Publications—Include proceedings of conferences sponsored by NIST, NIST annual reports, and other special publications appropriate to this grouping such as wall charts, pocket cards, and bibliographies.

National Standard Reference Data Series—Provides quantitative data on the physical and chemical properties of materials, compiled from the world's literature and critically evaluated. Developed under a worldwide program coordinated by NIST under the authority of the National Standard Data Act (Public Law 90-396). NOTE: The Journal of Physical and Chemical Reference Data (JPCRD) is published bimonthly for NIST by the American Chemical Society (ACS) and the American Institute of Physics (AIP). Subscriptions, reprints, and supplements are available from ACS, 1155 Sixteenth St., NW, Washington, DC 20056.

Building Science Series—Disseminates technical information developed at the Institute on building materials, components, systems, and whole structures. The series presents research results, test methods, and performance criteria related to the structural and environmental functions and the durability and safety characteristics of building elements and systems.

Technical Notes—Studies or reports which are complete in themselves but restrictive in their treatment of a subject. Analogous to monographs but not so comprehensive in scope or definitive in treatment of the subject area. Often serve as a vehicle for final reports of work performed at NIST under the sponsorship of other government agencies.

Voluntary Product Standards—Developed under procedures published by the Department of Commerce in Part 10, Title 15, of the Code of Federal Regulations. The standards establish nationally recognized requirements for products, and provide all concerned interests with a basis for common understanding of the characteristics of the products. NIST administers this program in support of the efforts of private-sector standardizing organizations.

Order the following NIST publications—FIPS and NISTIRs—from the National Technical Information Service, Springfield, VA 22161.

Federal Information Processing Standards Publications (FIPS PUB)—Publications in this series collectively constitute the Federal Information Processing Standards Register. The Register serves as the official source of information in the Federal Government regarding standards issued by NIST pursuant to the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 as amended, Public Law 89-306 (79 Stat. 1127), and as implemented by Executive Order 11717 (38 FR 12315, dated May 11, 1973) and Part 6 of Title 15 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations).

NIST Interagency Reports (NISTIR)—A special series of interim or final reports on work performed by NIST for outside sponsors (both government and nongovernment). In general, initial distribution is handled by the sponsor; public distribution is by the National Technical Information Service, Springfield, VA 22161, in paper copy or microfiche form.
